Parents As Partners Programs

2011-2012

Harborfields Central School District
Greenlawn, New York 11740

Parents As Partners...

was created over sixteen years ago as a collaborative venture between parents and key individuals within the Harborfields Central School District. Its original intent was to provide an arena for parents, administrators, psychologists, and social workers to discuss parenting topics in an informal atmosphere. From there a very small group of committed individuals established a committee that now provides comprehensive workshops and presentations on relevant and applicable parenting topics to the Harborfields school community.

Since 1997, Parents As Partners (PAP) success was so noted within and outside the Harborfields Central School District that the committee has received grant monies through Suffolk County's Youth Bureau and the 16th Legislative District to continue its fine work in the school community.

We appreciate your feedback. Once again, we have streamlined the number of evening presentations and hope that you will find the PAP calendar interesting and informative. Thank you for your continued support and we look forward to seeing you at the 2011-2012 Parents As Partners sponsored programs.

Thank you,

Parents As Partners Committee
