Summer 2011

Hats Off to the Class of 2011

The Class of 2011 took their final steps onto the Harborfields High School field on Saturday, June 25 at the district's 52nd Commencement Ceremony. The ceremony was laced with special performances by the high school band and senior members of the high school choir, including a special rendition of the Harborfields High School Alma Mater.

Prior to the presentation of the diplomas, Deputy Superintendent Diana Todaro addressed the graduates on behalf of Superintendent Frank Carasiti. In her remarks, Ms. Todaro stated, "It is evident that you are committed, caring, community-oriented and willing to do whatever is needed to succeed or help your fellow classmates. You have set a standard for future classes to follow and emulate."

The Class of 2011 salutatorian, Pamela Wax, then addressed her fellow graduates. In her speech, Pamela said, "Harborfields is so special. We are special because of the family we have created, because of the love that we have for each other, and because the pride that we have for our school. We have come full circle and now have to leave the comfort of our second home to conquer the world."

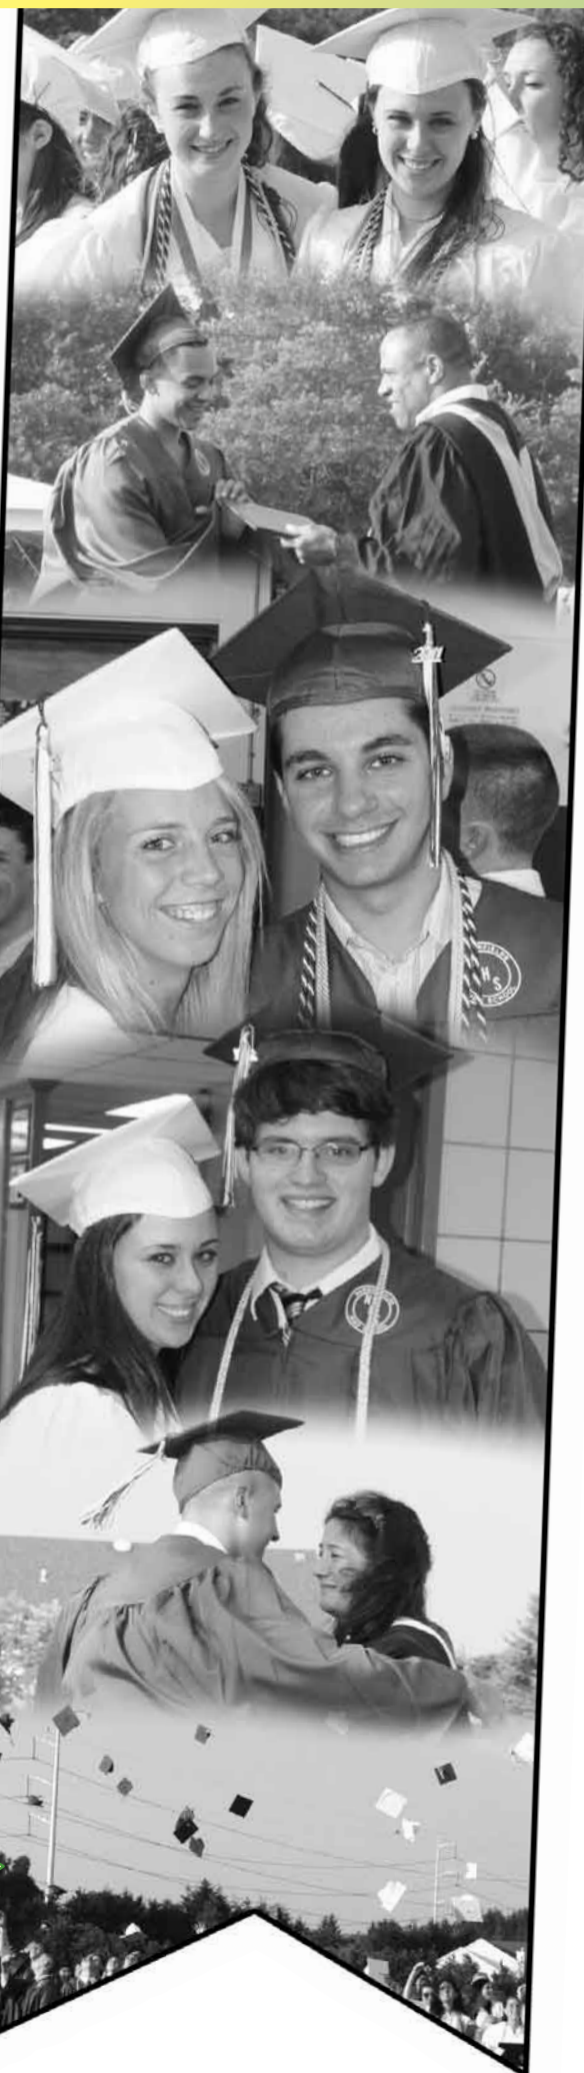

Valedictorian Caitlin Lyons also offered her words of reflection to the audience and gave the following advice: "Live each day as if it were its own adventure, because you never know what opportunities await you. Live your present but remember your past, for who you are is a result of what you have done, and who you will be is a result of what you will do today."

William Hennessy, social studies teacher and dean of students, addressed the graduates as the ceremony's featured speaker, as chosen by the Class of 2011. In his speech, he offered advice to the graduates as to which pieces of Harborfields the Class of 2011 should carry with them into the future, as suggested by his fellow colleagues. Among them were acceptance, tolerance, enthusiasm, and passion. "My own advice to you is to always love learning," Mr. Hennessy said. "Keep loving the exploration of new ideas."

High School Principal Dr. David Bennardo then delivered a moving speech that touched upon how special the Class of 2011 is. He compared the class to the "Little Engine That Could," noting that the class had the highest grade point average in Harborfields High School history, made the playoffs in numerous sports, and won more All-County and juried music awards than any other class. In addition, he stated that the Class of 2011 raised more than $90,000 for those less fortunate. "You have made an indelible impact upon our school and forever captured the hearts and minds of your high school family," Dr. Bennardo said.

Dr. Bennardo then presented a diploma to the family of Nikki Kantor, a beloved member of the Class of 2011 who passed away last summer. Following the emotional presentation, the members of the Class of 2011 were called to the podium to receive their diplomas to the cheers of their families and friends. Once officially announced as graduates, these young adults celebrated by tossing their caps into the air. Following the recessional march, graduates reunited with their loved ones as official alumni of the Harborfields Central School District.

Harborfields High School Students Thank Local Veterans with Special Breakfast in Their Honor

On Friday, June 3, Advanced Placement Government students from Harborfields High School welcomed approximately 30 local veterans to the school for a special breakfast in their honor. Coordinated by teacher Patricia Taylor, the annual event is one final gesture on behalf of the students to the nation's heroes before the school year ends.

Veterans from the local American Legion and VFW Posts spent the morning with students, telling them stories of their service over breakfast. Students enjoyed listening to the experiences of veterans from World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam War. Some veterans also brought photo albums along to show students photos from their time in service.

One guest, World War II veteran Michael Colamonico, captivated students with his story of being held a Prisoner of War. "I tell you this story because you should know what we – and some of your own grandparents – went through," he said.

Fellow veteran Alex Squillace, who served in Korea from 1956-1957, told the Harborfields students that the conditions he lived in were primitive. He said, "We were required to stay on one road the entire time – if you deviated from that path, you were in trouble." Mr. Squillace commented that he attends the Harborfields High School breakfast every year. "I enjoy it because I like to give kids a flavor of what it was like during that time," he explained.

TJL Students Raise Money Through "Jerseys for Japan"

The student council at Thomas J. Lahey Elementary School, under the advisement of teachers Susan Turrini and Augustino Rettino, recently raised money for the earthquake relief effort in Japan. Students and teachers donated one or two dollars to wear a jersey to school on May 6. Through this simple effort, the student council raised $780, which was donated to the American Red Cross.

The TJL student council hosts three major fundraisers a year that are focused on helping others in the community, nation, and world. According to Ms. Turrini, "The student council works hard throughout the year to do many projects that help others."

Dr. Christine Fiorella Russo is pictured with the students who were selected to have their poems included in the Anthology of Poetry by Young Americans.

OMS Students Donate $3,500 Toward Pediatric Cancer Research

On May 27, staff and student volunteers who produced "OMS Idol," a show in which teachers and staff sang to a packed audience, took a trip to North Shore/LIJ Children's Medical Center of NY to present a donation for pediatric cancer research and patient support. Students, who included members of the school's Peer Mediation and TLC groups, were invited to meet with hospital staff and talk with Dr. Jeffrey Lipton, Chief of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology.

Dr. Lipton expressed his gratitude for the school's donations and reiterated that student-led philanthropy efforts can impact lives. He explained that the funds raised by OMS can be applied to smaller experimental studies, which can lead to grants for larger-scale projects. Students also discussed careers in the medical field and how these donations would also help patients' families with financial needs.

"Oldfield Idol" was held in early April and raised over $3,500 for pediatric cancer research in memory of Jordan Yurkew. The sold-out show garnered a huge audience full of students, staff and parents. OMS teachers and administrators sang their hearts out, volunteering their time and energy for this great cause.

WDPS POETS RECOGNIZED

Seventeen students in Dr. Christine Fiorella Russo's reading groups at Washington Drive Primary School recently participated in a creative writing contest. Their poetry has since been selected for inclusion in the Anthology of Poetry by Young Americans, which was established in 1989. Thousands of poems are reviewed each year and only the most creative of those are selected for publication. It is one of America's oldest and most reputable publishers of students' poetry and short stories.

Congratulations to the following students, whose articles were selected for publication:

HHS Students Receive Awards For Excellent Writing

The district would like to congratulate high school students Hannah Kaufman, Henry Katz, and Alec Dauro who received awards in the 12th Annual Huntington Youth Writes Contest, a competition sponsored by Project Excel, part of the Huntington Youth Bureau Youth Development Research Institute. Hannah placed first in the poetry category; Henry received an honorable mention for his written essay; and Alec was recognized as a third-place winner for his short story.

According to Harborfields High School Principal Dr. David Bennardo, "These fine students have distinguished themselves from the 1,200 entrants who participated in this rigorous competition. These prestigious awards are a fitting tribute to the outstanding English teachers and supportive parents who inspire our students to Language Arts excellence on a daily basis."

"Personal Best" Recognized at OMS

In early June, Oldfield Middle School hosted its annual Personal Best Awards Breakfast, during which 66 students were recognized for character growth, responsibility, leadership, perseverance, and outreach to others. TJL Highlights Artistic Talent

On Thursday, May 19, Thomas J. Lahey Elementary School hosted its annual Art Show for students, parents, and community members. Throughout the evening, attendees walked the hallways of TJL, where thousands of pieces of student artwork were on display. All artwork created by students throughout the school year – both individual and group projects – were represented, including self-portraits inspired by artist Chuck Close, pop art iPods, and pop-up poem illustrations.

Art teacher Laura Riekert, who has hosted the celebration for the past 12 years, coordinated the show.

WDPS Students Take a Trip Around the World

First-grade students in Melissa Owen's class at Washington Drive Primary School begin the show by singing "Hello to All the Children of the World."

Students in Melissa Owen's first-grade class at Washington Drive Primary School took a "Trip Around the World" during a performance for family and friends. To begin the show, the students led the audience to China through a song entitled "Fong Swei." They then traveled to Italy by singing "That's Amore" and "On Top of Spaghetti" and concluded their trip in Africa with a variety of songs, including "The Lion Sleeps Tonight."

Flanked by scenery depicting the above countries, the students were dressed in traditional outfits worn in China, Italy, and Africa. In addition to singing beautiful songs for their family and friends, the children also shared important facts about the countries. In preparation for their "trip around the world," the students spent time in class researching their countries and learning about the various customs and cultures of each.

Harborfields Staff Recognized for Outstanding Accomplishments

Thomas J. Lahey Elementary School Principal Florence Tuzzi (center) recognizes Augustino Rettino (right) and Susan Turrini on their outstanding recognitions.

The Harborfields School District is proud to announce that four of its staff members have been recognized for their outstanding contributions and accomplishments.

Vincent Pisano, the district's Director of Guidance, was awarded the Administrator of the Year Award from the Western Suffolk Counselors' Association. Harborfields High School guidance counselors Sabrina Meehan and Sylvia Sales nominated Mr. Pisano for the award. In their application, they said, "He has helped transform our departmental functions to meet the needs of our students in this ever-changing world...He promotes a collaborative work environment, supports his staff members, and is available to them at all times."

In addition to honoring Mr. Pisano, the Western Suffolk Counselors' Association also recognized Oldfield Middle School guidance counselor Jennifer McCaffrey as its Counselor of the Year. Ms. McCaffrey was nominated by fellow counselors Dahlia Roemer and Anita Nigro, who stated, "In middle school guidance, we strive to promote the qualities of empathy, integrity, and leadership in our students. We also strive to be good role models ourselves, practicing what we preach. In her almost full decade of serving students, Jen McCaffrey has embodied these qualities, inspiring positive change in hundreds of adolescents she has worked with."

Two teachers at Thomas J. Lahey Elementary School also recently received special recognitions. Fifth-grade teacher Augustino Rettino was presented with the Margaret Simon Award for Excellence in Elementary Social Studies Education by the Long Island Council for the Social Studies. In addition, fellow fifth-grade teacher Susan Turrini was granted the 2011 Suffolk Section of the Science Teachers Association of New York State's Elementary Teacher of the Year Award. Both teachers were nominated for their respective awards by TJJL Principal Florence Tuzzi and were required to submit a large compilation of their teaching work.

Congratulations to these staff members for their outstanding service!

BOARD BRIEFS

At the June 15, 2011 Board of Education meeting, the district recognized many students, teachers, and staff for their outstanding achievements. Among them were the staff and students of Washington Drive Primary School, who because of their efforts, earned the school an Educating the Whole Child for the 21st Century Award, presented by the New York State Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (NYS ASCD). According to ASCD's website, "This program has been established to recognize the outstanding work being done in many schools throughout the state and to create a resource bank of best practices connected to the whole child." Pictured is ASCD representative Norann McManus (back row, second from left) presenting the award to Board of Education President Nicholas Guiliano, Washington Drive Principal Maureen Kelly, Assistant Principal Marguerite Greene, and students of Washington Drive.

Free and Reduced-Price Lunch Reminder

The Harborfields Central School District Department of Food and Nutrition offers a free or reduced-price lunch and milk program for eligible families. For more information, you can visit the Department of Food and Nutrition page on the Harborfields website or you can obtain the paperwork from your child's teacher.

RELEASE OF DIRECTORY INFORMATION TO THE MILITARY

Under the regulations of the No Child Left Behind Act, parents, guardians, or students over the age of 18 who do not desire the release of directory information to the military must make a specific request in writing to the Superintendent of Schools by October 31, 2011. Failure to make such a request shall be deemed consent to release, provide, or publish the directory information during the 2011-2012 school year.

Thank You, Retirees and Volunteers

In early June, the Harborfields Central School District held a special ceremony to honor those staff members who are retiring from the district at the end of this school year. They are: Janice Farrell, Linda Gass, Remig Jahrsdoerfer, Karen Samborsky, Catherine Schillinger, and Marilyn Valeo. Together, these workers have a combined 86 years of service to the school district. During the reception, district administrators shared their words of thanks and gratitude for the retirees' dedication to Harborfields. In his remarks, Board of Education President Nicholas Guiliano said, "I hope you will recall us as we recall each of you – with fondness and appreciation."

Following the ceremony for the retirees, the Board of Education honored all district volunteers with a special reception. More than 250 volunteers from the school district were invited to attend. One by one, each volunteer was called up to the podium to receive a special certificate of thanks. Deputy Superintendent Diana Todaro said, "Thank you for your willingness to go above and beyond for our students – you enrich their lives. We truly thank you and appreciate all that you do for the Harborfields School community."
